Athletics

Athletics is the spirit of keen competition and active participation at Butler. A touchdown, a field goal, the sound of running feet amid a bedlam of cheers spark our days.

Victories are applauded, defeats are criticized, but the hope and confidence always prevail that our team and our school will win. It may be the breaks, it may be luck, but usually hard work and skill determine the victor.

Bulldogs in Action Off the Field

Four years of Hinkle tradition and seniors come 'round for the last time.

Injuries cost the team three first-string players.

Players review films from the previous week's game and, later in the week, the team is presented by Captain Mitschelen at a pep rally.

Bulldogs Prepare and Conquer

(1) On Saturday the fighting bulldog greets our team on their way to the locker room (2) where the players nervously await the game, each wondering what part he will play in the forthcoming contest. (3) As game time approaches, the team walks down the tunnel and (4) onto the field with their dads. (5) Calisthenics perpare the team for action. (6) Captain Lyle Mitschelen watches the referee flip the coin, (7) Butler wins the toss, and speedy Dick Dullaghan returns the opening kick off. (8) On the third down quarterback Joe Purichia rolls out and (9) hits end Steve Sadler with a pass. (10) The play fails, however, to gain the needed yardage for a first down, and Butler is forced to kick. (11) Ron Captain drops back to punt the ball and the Butler defense unit takes over.

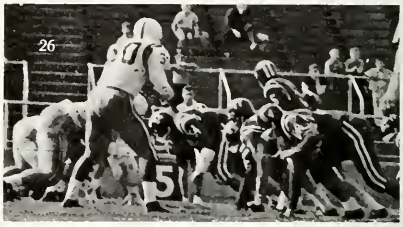
(12) Good downfield rushing limits our opponents to short yardage on the punt return. (13) Butler's quick rushing (14) aids Dick Dullaghan in the interception of a pass which enables Butler to take possession of the ball. (15) Quarterback Joe Purichia directs the Bulldog attack from the "Straight T" and (16) hands off to halfback Bob Downham who breaks over tackle with assistance of teammates' key blocks. (17) evades the last defender, and scores a touchdown. (18) During half-time the exhausted Bulldogs recuperate. (19) Coaches Hinkle, Hauss, and Sylvester watch the start of the second half while players Dezelan and Jackson await action. (20) After a series of plays, halfback Dave Enright is stopped short of a first down—Butler kicks. (21) Tom Sayer protects but Van Bailey's punt is blocked (22) much to Hinkle's chagrin. (23) Our opponents take over the ball but (24) they are stopped by a series of plays by Torchia, Brodine, and Fairchild.



(25) Butler takes possession of the ball, calls time out, and huddles. (26) With first down and ten, Butler lines up and (27) Purichia rolls out, receives good protection from Bob Crawford, and throws a pass (28) to Jeff Brodine who takes it over for the score (29) as the referee signals a touchdown. (30) Players on the sidelines shout encouragement as (31) Butler attempts the extra point. (32) The game ends with confusion and excitement as the players and the fans leave the field. (33) The scoreboard reads: VICTORY AND THE CONFERENCE CHAMPIONSHIP!

Paced by Ron Volpatti and Steve Imel, Butler's 1964 cross country team finished the season with a fair record and copped 4th place in the ICC. Terry Rudy, Terry Macy and Harold Fogelberg added strength in the remaining positions where point-getting is most important. With lack of depth and only two seniors, the cross country team started out slowly, but progressed throughout the season despite a rebuilding year for Coach Walker's squad. Butler won several dual meets, placed high in all triangular meets, and finished 9th in the Little State. Volpatti finished 5th in the ICC while other Butler runners finished 25th, 30th, and 38th. Team members composing the varsity were Ron Volpatti, Terry Rudy, Terry Macy, Harold Fogelberg, and Stan Busby.

Bulldogs Exhibit Drive and Determination

The 1964-1965 basketball season saw the Bulldogs seeking to maintain their perennial high standings in conference and Midwest action. With an initial victory over long-time rival Wabash, Butler went on to face some of the stiffest competition in the country. Coach Tony Hinkle's players performed extremely well at times during the season, gaining victories over such teams as Michigan State, Tulane, and Akron. One of the highlights that came later in the season was a well deserved victory over Bradley in which good shooting and efficient team play enabled Butler to gain the decision. Winding up their pre-conference games, the Bulldogs fell to top-ranked Michigan and to a tough Toledo team. Competition in the ICC proved to be tougher than usual, in that the Bulldogs only managed to stop St. Joe in the beginning round of conference play. Against Evansville the Blue and White put up a valiant effort, but the Aces were just too much as they demonstrated with their series of wins which won them the ICC conference crown. Another win over St. Joe and a triumph over Valparaiso enabled Butler to advance in the standings, but two ICC victories were not enough to make the Bulldogs a threat to the conference leaders. Being down in the ICC standings is quite unusual for a Butler team, but the Bulldogs never let down in their efforts and this perseverance gained them a very respectable record.

Butler Fans Say - "Our Team Is Good"

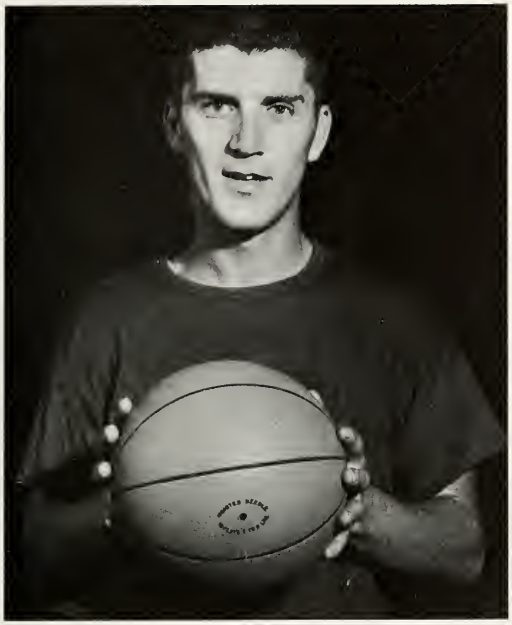
Desire and determination continued to characterize the Butler Bulldogs even though the basketball season was not as successful as predicted. Records alone, however, do not always measure success. The 1964-1965 basketball team was "good," but how can "goodness" be measured? The effort put forth by our team cannot and will not go unrecognized; they tried so hard to win. The Butler fan likes his team, likes the players, and likes the coach. Regardless of the record, the Butler fan will always say—Our team is good.

Players' grimaces verify the efforts and determination of both sides.

St. Joe may get the ball, but not for long.

After Shade goes high to grab the roundball, Iwema drops it in while opponents look on.



Finishing his last season, Tom Jones sparked the team at guard.

Frosh Show Potential, Gain Experience

This year's Freshman basketball team under the direction of Coach Frank "Pop" Hedden gained valuable experience from their first season at Butler. Although the record does not reflect great success, it does indicate the outstanding talent and potential to be found among this group of basketball players. Led by such stand-outs as Don Huckstep, Bill Mauck, and Doug Wininger, these young Bulldogs have a great future in playing basketball for Butler. What they learned this year in the way of basketball skills and techniques can be put to tremendous use in their remaining years as Butler Bulldogs.

Dave Enright stands by the plate ready to smash a home run.

The 1964 baseball team finished the season very strong after early-season losses to Big-Ten opponents. Having to depend mostly upon underclassmen, the Blue Sox had a rather bad start for the season. With the steady pitching of Ron Iwema, Andy Carr, and Joe Kertis, a competent defense by Stan Koby, Tom Renie, and Scott Wallace, and the timely hitting of Dave Enright, Garry Donna, and Larry Shade, the Bulldogs finished in the upper division of the final ICC standing. Because the baseball team will lose only four seniors, Hinkle's diamondsmen should have a successful 1965 season.

Thinlies Place High in Conference Meet

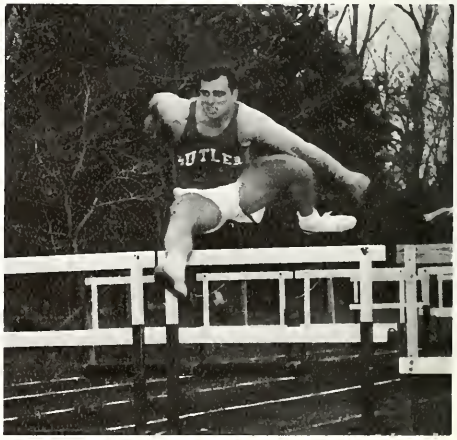
Participating in track means keeping in excellent physical condition.

The 1964 Butler track squad was paced by Tim Renie, a Tipton senior, who set school records in the 330-yard intermediate hurdles and the 440-yard dash. Seniors Dan Reinhard and Ron Althardt were consistent winners in the high jump and high hurdles, respectively; sophomore Bill Wright almost eclipsed the Butler pole vault record. Finishing the season, Butler placed fifth in the ICC. Outstanding award winner was Tim Renie, who became the second person in Butler history to win the Andy Williams Award for mental attitude and the Scott Ham Award for track excellence.



Trackman Wally Bucklew shows determination as he keeps the lead.

Linksmen Journey to NCAA Finals

Tom Jones instructs Randy Foxworthy in swinging technique.

Paced by four returning lettermen, Coach Jim Hauss' 1964 Butler golf team captured the ICC championship for the second consecutive year. Lee Evans finished up 4-under-par 67 to become an ICC medalist for the second straight year; Evans was followed closely by Tom Jones. A winning season enabled the Butler linksmen to advance to the NCAA finals in Springfield, Missouri. With four returning starters, the 1965 golf team should have its nucleus for another championship.

Organizations

The pulsating rhythm of campus life stems from these cohesive groups known as organizations. They are the core from which ideas first become known and then branch out to engulf the students, bringing them into a unit which works and plays together.

Organizations may be seen entering into every aspect of the student's life. He adds to and acquires from groups those qualities which enamble him to live in harmony with his fellow man. Organizations are made for the individual, and the individual is the cornerstone of the organization.

Mortar Board Strives for Excellence

Now in its forty-sixth year, Mortar Board was the first national honor society established for senior women. In this short time Mortar Board has grown to become a national organization with 109 chapters. In June of 1964 Marcia Pinkstaff, as president, represented Scarlet Quill chapter at the National Mortar Board Convention in Lincoln, Nebraska. In conjunction with Blue Key, the women of Mortar Board sponsored the traditional Homecoming week end. In addition to this gigantic undertaking, the senior women's honorary serves Butler through an evaluation made by members in the senior class. The results are tabulated and sent to the various departments of the University in order to give these departments a student evaluation of the courses offered. Each spring Mortar Board holds its Scholarship Day for all high school seniors who have received academic scholarships to Butler. Mrs. May Iske, Mrs. Alexander Jones, and Dr. Melvin Weinswig serve Mortar Board as faculty advisers.

Activities began in the fall for the twenty-four members with a "Ring the Chime" booth at SCAF. Football wouldn't have been complete without Chimes' candy apples. Thanksgiving and Christmas provided opportunities for the group's philanthropic projects. At the beginning of second semester, members spent time each week microfilming records for the Registrar. Corresponding with junior women's honoraries at various campuses throughout the country provided an opportunity for spreading the name of Butler.

PEMM Club is an organization composed of physical education majors and minors. Its purpose is to create a relaxed atmosphere in which to promote a professional and social interest in health, physical education, and recreation.

Raising money by selling coffee and donuts to students who were working on Homecoming house decorations the night before judging, and by managing concessions at the sectionals, members were able to attend the district convention of the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Joan Rasmussen led the group as president. Other officers were Cindy Tyo, vice-president; Janet Campbell, secretary; Kay Nicholson, treasurer. This year's faculty adviser was Miss Virginia McCampbell.

Delta Psi Kappa, a national professional fraternity for women in the field of physical education, celebrated its twenty-first year on the Butler campus by holding a special Founder's Day program.

Women are selected for membership on the basis of active athletic participation, and an accumulative average of 2.5 is required. Candidates for membership must be either physical education majors or minors.

Officers for the year were Janet Campbell, president; Nora Campbell, vice-president; Carol Reynolds, secretary; Joan Rasmussen, treasurer; Kay Collings, chaplain; Joan Stewart, sergeant-at-arms. Miss Sarah Hope served as faculty adviser.

The Women's Recreation Association functions in three major bodies: the advisory board acts as the legislative body; the sports council is in charge of organizing all intramural sports; and the general membership is the group which participates in all the WRA sports and functions. These three groups combine to promote healthy recreation for all Butler women students. In addition to all intramural sports sponsored by WRA, the organization has held several campus-wide "sports nights." The Monte Carlo Party has become an annual production for WRA members at which time gambling is condoned and students can win several thousand dollars—in play money, of course! WRA also sponsors High School Play Day which gives WRA members an opportunity to officiate recreation for high school girls.

The 1964-1965 officers are Joan Rasmussen, president; Judy Powell, vice-president; Jeannie Flesch, secretary; Pam Lassiter, treasurer.

Twenty years ago, this organization became a part of the national group known as the Association of Women Students and has remained a part of that group since that time. The Association has become the governing body for coeds at Butler.

This year for the first time, AWS sponsored two women students to MIT science workshop in October.

Ginny Staley held the gavel this year. Helping her were Diane Gable, vice-president; Bonnie Adams, secretary; Sallyann Polivka, IAWS representative; Ruth Helen Killion, treasurer. Adviser to the group was Dr. Allegra Stewart.

The 1964-1965 Student Council took the initiative to sponsor three new events or campaigns in accordance with its responsibility to the University—that of a governing body. In keeping in step with the national political scene, the Council held a mock election in which all students were able to cast a ballot for the presidential candidate of their choice. The newly-organized Student Speakers Bureau promises to interested students an opportunity to promote Butler University through speaking appearances on a state-wide basis. In an effort to assume the proper role of a university governing body, the Student Council is making a study of its entire role in relation to student judicial matters. The Council is planning a promotion of uniform testing methods for all university departments in order to eliminate unfair testing techniques and any opportunities for student dishonesty.

As in years past, Student Council has the authority to print the Butler calendar book, the GAVEL, in which students can find dates, times, and places of nearly all the major campus events. In addition to the official Student Council publication, the Council also has the responsibility of conducting all regular campus elections. The organization's biggest production is the Student Council Activities Fair which is held in the fieldhouse each fall. The primary purpose of the Activities Fair is to familiarize Butler students with the wide variety of campus organizations and activities and to give the students a general idea of the duties and responsibilities of each organization. Through the Activities Fair, Student Council gives Butler students and especially freshmen an opportunity to become acquainted with campus organizations before joining.

The Student Council officers for the 1964-1965 school year are Craig Pinkus, president; Alan Monroe, first vice-president; Bonnie Adams, second vice-president; Paula Williams, corresponding secretary; Judy Ratliff, recording secretary; and Dan Warfel, treasurer.

Boston, 1891, was the scene of the first Panhellenic Convention when seven fraternities met to discuss methods for interfraternity cooperation. In the year to come, a set of by-laws, a national constitution, and rules for pledging and rushing were set up.

Panhellenic Association consists of the Panhel delegate, rush chairman, and president from each sorority. During the year Panhel compiled rules governing rushing, pledging, and initiation on campus. In September new sorority pledges were honored at the annual Panhel banquet. In cooperation with the Inter-fraternity Council they sponsored so-called Greek Week.

The Junior Panhellenic Council takes its membership from the six sorority pledge classes. Pledges got into the Yule spirit by caroling the fraternity houses and Ross Residence Hall.

Brotherhood of Men Is Legend of IFC

The Interfraternity Council, popularly known as IFC, is composed of one officer from each of the eight fraternities at Butler. The council strives to unite the campus fraternities to work cooperatively. Its members set up rush rules and regulate the scholarship reports among the fraternal organizations. Dean of Men, Herbert F. Schowmeyer, served as adviser to the organization.

After expert salesmanship, IFC members are awed by various decorations adorning the traditional freshman beanies.

A Memory Is a Tiny Remembrance

locked in the furthest edge of your mind . . . that stays tucked away

most of the time, coming out only on special occasions when it appears on the wings of a careless remark . . .

an idle hello . . .

or the routine cleaning of a desk drawer.

A pleasant memory can be so many things:

. . . a special person

. . . a personal triumph

. . . a certain place.

Butler is just such a certain place. A place, we suspect, that holds a number of pleasant memories for you. Consider . . .

that surprise phone call from a classmate in town for the day . . .

those athletic headlines on the evening sports page . . .

that forgotten history book that recalls a certain lecture,

or professor, or an exam that was particularly meaningful . . .

Consider them, because these, and a million more like them, are the tiny detonators to your memories of Butler. We know that by themselves they mean little. For alone they cannot begin to synthesize a pleasant memory of yours.

Precisely because it is yours, it belongs to no one but you . . . and no one can know what facet of it makes you keep it—ageless, untarnished, and wrapped in a sturdy cover of pleasure . . .

We, the Butler University Alumni Association, could wish you no more . . . than that you have a million pleasant memories of Butler University.

DRIFT Focuses Upon Fulfillment of Self

Ina Sue Cross, editor-in-chief

The DRIFT office comes alive in early September and remains a bustling center of activity for a gallant few until the final deadlines are met. Creating a yearbook is a never-ending job for the editors and the staff; it is a constant source of wonder, worry, and hard work. The purpose of an annual is to relate a story—a story of activity, of participation, and of learning. But the most important element of the story is an elite group of people who bring the story and the university to life. The students who comprise the DRIFT staff are a very small part of this elite group, but an important part. Under the direction of Colonel John Barron, these students are able to give to you an account of the story in which you play an integral part.

One Final Word . . .

The editors and the staff of the 1965 DRIFT have intended to present a living record of the year's events through pictures and words. One must note, however, that the grooves of this record are more deeply imbedded than most of us realize. The mere recording of factual information serves only to cover our record while the multitude of personalities which create a yearbook give depth and vibrance to our recording.

Serving in the capacity of editor for the second semester, I found each day in the office to be a day in which greater insight could be gained into human personalities. I found that yearbooks are created by students who are willing to work for the achievement of a common goal. Yearbooks are created by individuals who are willing to sacrifice their personal interests—again, for this common goal, I saw men like Colonel John Barron, our faculty adviser, and Richard Kennard, our publisher's representative, give of their time so that our story could become a reality. And finally, I discovered the innumerable ways in which students approach challenge: I saw tears and laughter, defeat and victory.

But in the end we can all say that each of us had a part in presenting the 1965 DRIFT to you, the reader. For after all, your real interest lies in the surface of our record and not in the depth of the grooves.

Robert L. Oyler, Editor
